I'm computer engineer and master in multimedia, due to it I have knowledge of programming, algorithms, OOP, pattern design and design. I'm a restless person and I like to learn new technology, I have a weakness for web design and the world of video games, because combine design and programming, two important facets to me.

I began to work with actionscript 2 and flash in a small Mexican studio as freelance by internet. That experience was enriching, because I learned to manage my time and work by myself. After of that, I have been working with actionscript 3, flex, AIR for Android and java, for a software company during more than 3 years. In these years I developed several web application, being the most complex, a newspapers reader that it can be customizable by our clients. Just as its mobile version Android and BlackBerry Playbook. Position what I developed as part of a team and where I have learned to plan tasks and to work fast but with quality, because meet tight deadlines is the one priority when you work for newspapers like Orbyt, Marca, Expasión, Sol, El debate, El informador, La Dépêche du Midi, etc.

And now, I moved to London to work in the development of games for web or mobile. I'm not afraid to learn new technics or the hard working.
